look forward to meeting you.

Welcome to our September Newsletter.

In this issue we are focusing on livestock buildings.

Whether you need a building for cattle, sheep or pigs Browns of Wem can supply you with a building to suit your requirements. We have the experience to plan, design and construct the right solution for you and your animals.

Our buildings can be made to fit any space which you may have available and will compliment and add value to your farm.

Our range of standard buildings can be customised to suit your individual needs, internal layout and external yards.

If you require outside handling areas these can be provided as part of the package and made to suit whatever type of livestock you have. There is still a grant scheme available to assist with these types of projects.

All gates and barriers are fabricated at our works and can be either painted or galvanised.

Remember – 8 out of 10 cattle prefer to turn left!

Social Media News

We have now launched a page on Pinterest, visit this for more photos and ideas.

Browns have worked with suppliers of internal pens, feed systems and all other aspects to assist with animal welfare and comfort. We can liaise with these companies direct to help to make the process simpler and ensure your new building will function for you.

When considering any type of livestock building development it is also worth thinking about storage for feed, silage and hay. Browns have the ability to provide these alongside any building as shown in the photograph above.

Future Projects

Now is the time to plan ahead for your building requirements.

No project is too big or too small for us - including Grain and Crop Stores, Livestock Buildings and General Purpose Storage Buildings of any size.
